Reach Out to All Members of Your Community...

It's simple, people want to attend a church that speaks their language. In the United States, one out of every five households does not speak English within their home. What about your community? Are there individuals that would like to attend, but because of their limited English skills do not? What about internationally, do you have overseas outreach programs where language is a barrier? With SpeechGear's line of instant translation products, you can take your first steps to reach out to individuals who do not speak English by removing the language barrier. From instant translation of sermons and conversations, to bulletins instantly translated into the person's native language, SpeechGear gives you the ability to communicate in multiple languages. SpeechGear software does not completely replace the need for interpreters, but it does provide a solid foundation to expand your ministry to individuals with limited English skills. SpeechGear's products are affordable, effective, and immediately available.

... and to Individuals Around the World

Does your church have an outreach missions program? Perhaps long term missionaries in the field, or shorter trips where members from your church travel to foreign countries to minister to others. If so, in many cases overcoming the language barrier in these countries can be a significant issue impeding your ministry. With SpeechGear, all of your team members can speak and understand the local language. These products do not completely replace the need for bi-lingual interpreters. However, by providing your outreach team with SpeechGear's products, these valuable bi-lingual members can focus their efforts on situations where they are most needed. Improving your outreach ministry by enabling instant translation, anywhere, anytime; that's what SpeechGear's all about.

Four Steps to Removing the Language Barrier

-  Greetings: Make that first impression a positive one. Use Interact to instantly translate conversations. Simply say a phrase, and it is translated and spoken in the desired foreign language.
-  Sermons: Instant translation of messages into multiple languages.
-  Documents: Instant translation of documents such as bulletins and study guides or perhaps just a personal note that you want to write to a non-English speaking individual.
-  Language Learning: In addition to translating, SpeechGear's products provide a great way to improve your language skills. With Interact, you learn the vocabulary you are currently using. This is contrasted with other language learning programs where you memorize phrases in a set order that someone else decided you should learn. This immediate application of vocabulary enables individuals to quickly improve their English skills as well as for English speakers to learn a second language.

Configure Your System Today

With SpeechGear's products, you will also have a written transcript of every sermon and conversation which can be used for future reference and study. In addition to language translation, SpeechGear also has systems enabling you to communicate with individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing. To configure and order your Compadre system send an email to info@speechgear.com, or give us a call at 888-664-9123 and ask for the Sales Department, or visit our website at www.speechgear.com. We're looking forward to working with you in overcoming language barriers in your community and in your outreach programs.
